PSC Blocks Central Plan

New York, Feb. 4 (Special)—The Public Service Commission today blocked a proposal by the New York Central Railroad to abandon passenger service on the West Shore Division by ordering continuation of all trains now operated on that line pending the outcome of a thorough investigation.

The commission will hold a public hearing at a time and place to be announced later to consider all phases of the matter.

As an initial move in its abandonment plans the railroad had posted notices in its West Shore stations to the effect that all but two trains would be discontinued as of March 7.

THE PSC DIRECTED the immediate removal of such notices, thereby requiring retention of all trains now operated on that branch.

On Dec. 15, 1954 the railroad petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to abandon operation of ferry service between the West Shore terminal at Weehawken, N. J. and Manhattan. Later it applied to the New Jersey Board of Public Utility Commissioners for permission to abandon passenger operations on the West Shore between Weehawken and the New York state line.

Similarly, it has recently petitioned the New York State Public Service Commission for permission to abandon passenger train service between the New Jersey line and Albany, thereby completing a move designed to effect a total abandonment of passenger service on the West Shore.

IN AN OPINION, the PSC notes that 24 southbound trains and 25 northbound trains are presently operated on the West Shore Division, which has been affording passenger service since 1883.

These trains serve 28 agency and nine non-agency stations in New York state as well as others in New Jersey.

The opinion said that the West Shore "has become a vital

He said the association felt the requests were reasonable and called attention to the rise in salaries in neighboring cities.

"Governor Harriman has said the minimum salary should be $1.25 an hour. Some employees feel they are second rate citizens, so to speak."

He said the state paid a principal account clerk $4,130 to $5,200, with a sixth step providing an additional increment to a maximum of $5,460, whereas the maximum in Kingston was only $4,000.

Kingston pays a stenographic secretary from $2,900 to $3,500, whereas the state pays $3,500 to $4,490 and the city of Newburgh $4,500 to $5,100, he pointed out.

'Alibis' Charge Is Made

Morhouse Hits At State Budget

Albany, Feb. 4 (P)—The Republican state chairman today accused Gov. Harriman of dealing in "political alibis" to explain his record-smashing budget and demand for $127,600,000 in tax increases.

L. Judson Morhouse said in a statement that the new Democratic governor seemed "obsessed by an unfortunate desire to smear" the record of the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Morhouse was in Washington today, conferring with other GOP leaders. He and Rep. Dean P. Taylor of Troy, national Committeeman from New York, were among 17 guests invited by President Eisenhower to a stag dinner at the White House last night. The Morhouse statement was issued from his office here.

MORHOUSE SAID that Harriman's proposals to boost taxes were in "stark contrast to the fiscal records" of the GOP administration of President Eisenhower and Dewey.

Harriman last Tuesday asked the Legislature to approve a record $1,345,000,000 budget for the 1955-56 fiscal year. He contended that $107,700,000 of the spending in his new budget was decreed by programs launched under the Dewey administration. Only 6½ million was for his own programs, he said.

The governor maintained that Dewey had whittled away at reserve funds to conceal unbalanced budgets and that state revenues no longer were sufficient to meet expenses.

HARRIMAN PROPOSED tax increases of 11 per cent on personal incomes, 33 1/3 per cent on unincorporated businesses, 9 per cent on corporations and 2 cents a gallon on gasoline and 3 cents on diesel fuel.

The new governor, Morhouse said, "is off to an ominous start." The GOP chairman added that "it seems clear now that Governor Harriman plans to keep his hand deep in the taxpayer's pocket as long as he holds office."

Morhouse said that Harriman proposed to "saddle" the people

DESCRIBES HIS ROLE AS WITNESS—Harley Matusow, 28-year-old former Communist who recently repudiated testimony given at trial in which 13 second string Communist leaders were convicted, discusses his role as a former FBI informer and "professional government witness" during news conference in New York Thursday. Matusow, who has written a book called "False Witness," said he would welcome an investigation of his disclosures about his past activities. (AP Wirephoto)

Views Conflict Sharply on Dixon-Yates In Senate-House Atomic Energy Report

Washington, Feb. 4 (P)—Sharply conflicting views of Republicans and Democrats on the Dixon-Yates contract were contained today in a report by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee on the contract hearings held last November.

The Democrats asserted in their section of the report that the Atomic Energy Commission, which negotiated the contract with President Eisenhower's order, "has been distracted from its primary task of assuring our country's world leadership in atomic energy." They called the contract "fundamentally wrong."

The Republicans contended the real issue is whether the Tennessee Valley Authority should be allowed to continue to expand its power output indefinitely "subsidized by federal funds."

"Let us be frank — to adopt that policy would be rank, unrestrained, unadulterated socialism," the GOP members said.

When the Republicans had a majority on the committee last November they voted, in a 10-8 straight party line, a waiver in favor of an AEC contract with the Dixon-Yates private power group for a West Memphis, Ark., power plant. This private power would supplement TVA power needed for the Atomic Energy Commission in the Paducah, Ky., area.

The Democrats now contend that Mansfield knowingly had written an article for the leftwing magazine New Masses.

The truth was, he said, the article printed by the magazine was a reprint of a Senate speech

Great Big Bluff Tried by Chou, In Smith's View

Senator Contends Answer Not Final; Press Officer Sees UN Flouted

Washington, Feb. 4 (P)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) said today Communist China is trying "a great big bluff" in demanding a seat in the United Nations Security Council as a condition for discussing a Formosa cease-fire.

Smith, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Far Eastern Subcommittee, said Premier Chou En-lai's answer was "not final."

"They'll come," Smith said in an interview. "But they want to get some concessions first. So they start off big."

Press officer Henry Suydam of the State Department called the Red Chinese answer a "further flouting of the United Nations." But he too indicated further steps can be expected.

"It is for the Security Council, which is constantly striving for peace, to consider this rejection," he said in a statement yesterday, "and we shall be consulting with other members toward a further meeting."

CHAIRMAN GEORGE (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said "it may be a propaganda bluff," and Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) a committee member said "we must remember that all negotiation is a matter of trading back and forth."

But Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), another committee member, called the reply an insult. Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) said it was "virtual blackmail," and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), the minority leader, said it was "ill timed."

Mendes-France demanded the vote—on which defeat would topple his seven-month-old government—after two days of bitter debate highlighted by a rift in his own radical Socialist party.

The defection among his nominal followers made the prospect of Mendes-France's ouster

MEETING ON FORMOSA—Gen. Earle E. Partridge, right, top U.S. air commander in the Far East, is greeted by Chiang Kai-shek after he flew to Formosa from his Tokyo headquarters Thursday. Gen. Partridge said he had come to see Gen. (Tiger) Wang Shu-ming, head of the Nationalist air force. He left immediately for a Nationalist airbase to the South where the U.S. 18th Sabrejet fighter-bomber wing is stationed. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Taipei).

UN Diplomats See Three Paths Open

United Nations, N. Y., Feb. 4 (P)—UN diplomats consulted today on the next step in their quest for peace in the Formosa Strait. They generally agreed the UN can do little in the face of Red China's boycott of the proposed Security Council cease-fire talks.

Three courses appeared to be open:

1. Make another effort to persuade Chou En-lai to send a representative here.

2. Debate the Formosan problem without the participation of the Chinese Communists.

3. Try to arrange a conference outside the UN—like the Far Eastern parley in Geneva last spring — at which the whole China problem could be discussed. This appeared the likeliest prospect.

declaration that he would not send a representative to the UN unless the Security Council ousts Nationalist China and gives Peiping that seat, many delegates saw no chance for compromise here. The Council was expected to stick to its previous firm refusal to replace Chiang Kai-shek's representative. Chou also was not expected to back down.

The Red Chinese Premier rejected the Council's invitation yesterday in a long cable to UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. He said that even if the Council ousted Nationalist China, it would send a representative to the UN unless the Security Council ousts Nationalist China and gives Peiping that seat.

But Smith said the Chinese Reds are simply "maneuvering for position."

"The loss of face for the United States would be terrific if we took a cease-fire on their terms," Smith said in an interview. "But in my judgment they really want a cease-fire."

REPORT ON O'HARA

James E. O'Hara of Mount Marion was reported in "good" condition today at Kingston Hospital, where he is undergoing treatment for injuries received in an accident on East Chester street Wednesday night, according to a police report.

THE MESSAGE approved by the council's 125-member general board and addressed to the 35½ million Christians belonging to its member bodies, said that "all life is one" by God's act of creation.

THE COUNCIL undoubtedly will meet soon—possibly Monday—to consider its future course. It already has before it a two-point agenda consisting of both the New Zealand proposal and the Soviet charges.

There is nothing to prevent a full council debate on both issues.

Boys Risk Peril To Cross River

Newburgh, Feb. 4 (P)—For the first time in years, ice has been thick enough on the Hudson river here to permit a shore to shore crossing on foot.

Four high school boys performed the trick yesterday, but veteran rivermen said it was dangerous and expressed hope nobody else would try to do it.

The boys, all 16, are Michael Boccia, Robert Coughlin and Frank Hetting of Beacon, and Fenton Downey, of Cold Spring, all students at St. Patrick's High School in Newburgh.

ORDINARILY they commute on the Beacon-Newburgh ferry.

But attracted by the iced condition of the river after school yesterday, they left their books on shore to try it out. They traveled about 100 yards, decided they could make it all the way, retrieved their books and walked to Beacon.

The first meeting for this class will be held Monday, February 8. There will be no 5:30-7:30 p. m. class during the winter months.

Americans' Request Is By Rankin General Says Reds Could Start War

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 4 (P)—Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek was reported today to be considering a U. S. request that he evacuate his troops from the Red-threatened Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

The request is believed to have been transmitted to Chiang by U. S. Ambassador Karl L. Rankin in a 75-minute conference Wednesday. The U. S. reportedly took the stand that the mighty U. S. 7th Fleet, which could not be held in a state of readiness indefinitely.

There was no confirmation here of rumors that Chiang would reply to the U. S. request today.

RED CHINA'S bristling rejection of a UN invitation to join in cease-fire talks signalled trouble. And there was increasing talk at middle Nationalist levels of fighting for the Tachen instead of abandoning them to the Reds.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander of the U. S. Far East air forces, told a news conference the Reds are capable of starting a war and "we have to be ready to fight if it starts. We are maintaining that readiness."

The U. S. 18th Fighter Bomber Wing was recently transferred here from bases in Okinawa and the Philippines.

PARTRIDGE SAID the Chinese Communists and Russia have about 8,000 planes in the Far East, numerically far superior to FEA, but "in combat we could take care of them."

Asked if he thought there would be a war, Partridge replied, "I can only say we are ready."

The Nationalists have long acknowledged the ability of the Communists to launch an amphibious attack on the Tachen at a moment's notice. Right now, however, no such attack appears imminent.

Nationalist planes pounded the Reds hard last night, and the Communists replied today with a minor artillery barrage on Quemoy Island.

THE NATIONALIST Defense Ministry said the Reds hurled 12 shells into Quemoy this afternoon from Tateng in Amoy Bay. The Red guns fell silent when Nationalist guns returned the fire, the ministry said.

Former Senator Is III

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—Rush D. Holt, 49, a former Democratic senator from West Virginia, was reported in a critical condition today at the National Institutes of Health. He was admitted as a patient a month ago. Sen. Neely (D-Wa.) told a reporter that Holt has cancer. Holt was the youngest man ever elected to the Senate. He was 29 when elected in November, 1934. Since the minimum age for a senator is 30, he could not take his seat until the following June. Holt served one term in the Senate, later broke with the Democratic party and unsuccessfully sought a congressional seat as a Republican.

Report Is 'Error'

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 4 (AP)—The Rev. Bernard R. Boylan, S.J., administrator of Holy Cross College, said today a report that the college is under quarantine is in error. The report, attributed to the Rev. Jeremiah Donovan, S.J., dean of discipline, had said the quarantine was ordered because of an outbreak of infectious hepatitis. Father Boylan, who is assistant to the college president, said two days ago two students had been sent to Belmont Hospital, Worcester, for observation of possible hepatitis. No conclusion on their cases has been reached. Father Boylan said.

Matusow Used

by Mansfield, published in the Congressional Record and available to anyone.

Matusow cited this as an example of "false documents" he used as campaign material.

To a question whether McCarthy knew of this, Matusow replied:

"Jean Kerr was in on it and Don Surine."

MILLS KERR NOW is McCarthy's wife. She and Surine were on McCarthy's staff.

Matusow quoted McCarthy as having said, in substance:

"We've got to beat Mansfield."

He quoted McCarthy as saying further "it would be as bad as having a Communist sitting in the Senate" if Mansfield were reelected.

Matusow recalled that he once told a congressional committee there were more than 100 Communists on the staff of the New York Times and more than 70 in Time Magazine.

"I had no knowledge of either publication," he told the news conference, adding that he testified "on the basis of hearsay information."

MATUSOW SAID he discussed the publications with McCarthy in a Milwaukee hotel on Labor Day, 1952.

He said McCarthy was "persecuted" because a Time Magazine story about him said he served warm drinks on one occasion for lack of ice.

Then the talk drifted, Matusow said, to alleged Communists on the magazine and the New York Times and in the CIO American Newspaper Guild.

In an affidavit Monday, Matusow said he lied to help convict the Communists and that Roy M. Cohn, then an assistant U. S. attorney and later chief counsel for McCarthy's committee, "helped formulate" some of the testimony. Cohn has denied this.

A federal grand jury has subpoenaed Matusow to appear Monday, apparently to question him about the affidavit.

Matusow said he joined the Communist Party in 1947, became an FBI informer in 1950, and was expelled from the party in 1951.

Asked what had led him to say now that he lied in his testimony, Matusow said that late in 1953 he passed a synagogue door and decided to adopt the principle of words he saw written over the door:

"Do justice, have mercy, walk humbly with thy God."

Reporters asked Matusow, who has written a book, "False Witness," how they could tell whether he was telling the truth now.

"There is no way you can be sure," he said.

Your Income Tax

By FRANK O'BRIEN
AP Newsfeatures

The preceding nine articles of this series — a guided tour through your income tax return — have led up to the point where you are now ready to get right down to the crucial business of figuring out whether you still owe the government tax money, or if you have a refund coming.

You have filled in the top of the page — give the names and social security numbers of both husband and wife if it is a joint return. You have decided whether you are filing a joint return, filing separately from your husband or wife, or as an unmarried person, or filing under the special provisions for a head of household or a recent widow or widower.

You have listed and counted your exemptions. You have determined whether you have any exclusions for sick pay, dividend income, pension or annuity income, or for any other type of income such as a scholarship. You have computed any credits which may be coming to you for dividend or retirement income.

Then you are ready to find your tax liability in the tax table on the back of the instructions mailed with your return, if your adjusted gross income was less than $5,000 and you did not itemize your personal deductions.

If your adjusted income was $5,000 or more, or if you itemized your personal deductions regardless of the size of your adjusted gross income, you must compute your tax liability.

In the tax computation table on page 3 of the return, you enter your adjusted gross income, and then subtract from it your total personal deductions. Then you enter the dollar value of your exemptions — $600 for each exemption — and subtract that from what is left of your adjusted gross income. That gives you your taxable income.

Single persons, married persons filing separately and heads of household then figure their tax liability on the basis of the taxable income just determined. Special tables on page 14 of the instructions help you determine your tax liability.

If you are filing a joint return, or are a widow or widower entitled to compute your tax as though it were a joint return, you split your income, find your tax liability on half of your taxable income in tax rate schedule 1 on page 14 of the instructions, and then double the result to get your full tax liability.

All who compute their tax liability enter it at the bottom of page 3.

Then back to page 1, where you will take dollar and cents bites out of that tax liability if you have dividend or retirement income credits coming to you. These you figured out and entered on page 4 of the return. You now bring any credits you computed over to page 1 and subtract them from your tax liability.

To your remaining tax liability you add anything you owe for self employment social security tax.

Generally, this applies to self employed persons who are within the social security system.

Since their social security tax is not withheld because they are not paid wages, they pay it themselves.

The tax is 3 per cent of your first $3,600 net earnings from self employment.

But — if you were partly self employed during 1954 and worked part of the time for wages on which social security tax was withheld, you do not pay the 3 per cent self employment tax on the full $3,600. In this case, you pay it on $3,600 minus the total wages you earned from which social security tax was withheld.

The self employed will need to get special schedule C (from a post office or bank) and fill it out. On the back of this you will find an outline of the many provisions and exceptions which may apply to your self employment situation. These complexities are laid out fully on pages 153 and 154 of "Your Federal Income Tax" published by the revenue service and available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., for 25 cents in coin or money order.

Add in any self employment tax you owe, and you get the big figure — your tax.

That figure may indicate you still owe the government some money.

Or it may indicate that you have a refund coming to you.

You determine which by adding together, on lines 12A and 12B of page 1 the tax you have paid through the year in amounts withheld from your salary, and any estimated tax payments you have made.

You get your withholdings total from the withholding form (W-2) supplied by your employer. (Do not forget to attach one copy of this to your return, keeping the other for your records.)

If the tax payments you have made are smaller than your tax you still owe the government.

But if your tax payments are larger than your tax, you may ask for a refund, or ask that the overpayment be credited to your 1955 tax.

Then you complete your return by checking the "Yes" or "No" boxes at the bottom of page 1, and by signing the return. Both husband and wife must sign if it is a joint return, even if only one had income. Mail the return to your district director's office. These are all listed on page 2 of the instructions.

And that squares you for 1954 with Uncle Sam's Treasury!

Mrs. Woodward Pays Painter, $7,000 Fee

New York, Feb. 4 (AP) — Socialite Mrs. William Woodward has paid surrealist Salvador Dali $7,000 for a portrait she says she can't stand and won't have in her home.

The attractive Mrs. Woodward sat for Dali for a year, agreeing not to look at the painting until it was completed. Came the finish — in April, 1953 — and after one look Mrs. Woodward said take it away.

Dali sued for "the reasonable value of his services."

Yesterday Theodore Miller, Mrs. Woodward's attorney, said Dali got a $7,000 check and agreed to withdraw the suit.

The painting shows a woman resembling Mrs. Woodward standing on a beach in front of a coral cave.

Commented Dali: ". . . She has now paid the agreed price. The painting will be delivered to her. I have no further comment."

These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE CEASE-FIRE PLAN

The argument for the cease-fire plan is that any shooting can lead to universal shooting, that is, to World War III. The efforts of Great Britain are designed to avoid, one might almost say evade, World War III. The British do not argue that they know what the advantage of a delayed war might be; they do know the disadvantages of an immediate war, namely, that the British Isles could be wiped clean because of the ferocity of current weapons.

Sir Anthony Eden has stated the British intention in one paragraph:

"In this situation the first concern of Her Majesty's Government is to stop the fighting. They have therefore continued to urge on all concerned the importance of doing this and of preventing wider conflagration. A solution of these delicate and difficult problems is not to be reached by force. A settlement can only be arrived at by the peaceful process of patient negotiation."

The argument against the cease-fire and United Nations mediation is that the Red Chinese want Formosa, they want it particularly before the April Conference of Asiatic-African nations. It is not so much a matter of reason as of "face." If Chou En-lai can defeat the United States on this issue, he could elbow Nehru aside and become the dominant individual in Asia.

It is apparent that Soviet Russia is beginning to wonder about Chou En-lai's Napoleonism but whatever decisions concerning Formosa are made in the Soviet Universal State, the Kremlin will make them, possibly at the Supreme Soviet meeting which began on Feb. 3. However, the Russians probably will not decline the role of mediator with the hope that they can hand Formosa and the Pescadores to Red China, thus proving that the junior partner in the Soviet Universal State cannot do as well as the senior partner. That would deprive Chou En-lai of "face" while getting the benefits of the mediation.

Whichever way it is done, through the United Nations or by Russian intervention, the cease-fire can only lead to prolonged negotiations for the abandonment of Formosa by the United States. Recognition of Red China by the United States or a seat in the United Nations for Red China, or the division of China into two, the People's Republic of China and the Republic of Formosa, will not be enough. What Chou En-lai wants is Formosa, neither for its strategic value nor as an act of irredentism but to strengthen his position among the Asiatic nations, to give him "face" by another defeat of the United States, to prove to the Asiatic world that he is the smartest and ablest man in Asia, not excepting the moralistic busbody, Nehru.

This view of the situation is well-understood on both sides and is frightening for all the Europeans and Asiatics, except Red China, because it can lead to an hysterical act committed for public opinion rather than for a sound goal. The comments on the cease-fire in the Red Chinese press would indicate that there is little mood for mediation. It is suggested in this country that the Red Chinese press adopted a similar tone before the cease-fire in Korea. The situation was altogether different; the stakes were smaller; the peril to Red China not as great. If Chou En-lai fails in his current objectives, his own position in the Soviet Universal State will be considerably reduced; he will have lost "face" in China; he will not be the cock-of-the-walk at the Bandung Conference. His greatest ambition, which is to succeed Mao Tze-tung, may become unachievable. It is Formosa or bust—for him.

This is what makes this situation so extremely difficult. Sir Anthony Eden, in the speech in the House of Commons from which I have already quoted, said:

"Her Majesty's Government are, however, satisfied that the problem of the coastal islands is susceptible of a peaceful solution if only all concerned are prepared to work for it."

It will take many schemes and much working out to prevent war from breaking out on account of Formosa. Short of isolating Chiang Kai-shek and giving all the islands along the China coast to Red China, little is fully satisfying to the proud and insatiable Chou En-lai, who is not subject to the kind of public opinion which exists in Great Britain and the United States.

SOME COMMON CAUSES OF BACKACHE

Backache is one of the commonest disabilities that happens to adults. It interferes with almost every type of activity and also interferes with adequate rest. Yet very often backaches do not receive sufficient treatment. One reason for this is that backaches are common but often only temporary and the patient may wish to avoid expensive or extensive procedures in the hope that the pain will disappear by itself. Low back pain is no danger in delaying action for the time being.

There are so many different causes of backache that we can understand why a person will delay seeking the physician's help, knowing how difficult it is going to be to find the cause. Of course, abnormal bone formations, defects in the bones and fractures can be located by X-ray examination.

In 1946, it was suggested that the commonest cause of chronic pain low in the back was a disc injury (discs are the pads between the bones of the spine) which could be corrected by surgery.

Many careful observers, however, feel that while a disc lesion may be a frequent cause, it is only one of many. They point out that about 40 per cent of the patients who have a herniated intervertebral disc removed by surgery will continue to have low back pain. It also has been found that almost all patients with disc injuries recover partly or completely after "conservative" treatment consisting of rest, physiotherapy and other measures not including surgery.

Low back pain may be caused by injury or irritation of the ligaments—the tough, fibrous bands which connect the bones or support the large organs within the trunk—or the fascia—which are the sheets or bands of tissue which connect the muscles—or the muscles themselves, or the synovia (a transparent fluid like the white of an egg which is found in joint cavities) or of the periosteum which is a tough fibrous membrane surrounding a bone. We can thus see that finding the exact cause of a backache is very complicated.

A further difficulty facing the physician in making his diagnosis of the cause of backache is the fact that when pain occurs, the muscles around the area contract or tense themselves, "splinting" it is called, in an effort to keep the back from moving and thus being hurt. This splinting is added to by the patient himself who makes a conscious effort not to move his back and so cause pain. This muscular contraction keeps the back from moving, increases the tension on the discs and joints, interferes with circulation, and increases fatigue in the muscles of the back, and makes it very difficult to locate the exact point at which the original pain is occurring.

Tomorrow we will talk about some of the measures being used for the relief of backache.

AN AWESOME BURDEN

President Eisenhower sought and won from Congress support for use of our armed forces in the broad defense of Formosa. But he didn't mean to delegate, nor could he, the power to decide whether those forces shall be used in any other fashion in the Far East.

That must be his decision, and his alone, as it was his to speak in the first place and warn the Communist world through resolutions endorsed by Congress.

This President, like any other, may invite and listen to advice from many men. But in the end, they can only advise. They

The Only Peace Movement He Understands

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Nelson Rockefeller's assumption of his new job as special assistant to President Eisenhower is expected to add considerably to the quality of creative imagination on the White House staff. This characteristic has not been too prominent in the first two years of the Eisenhower administration.

Old hands in government affairs will concede that the executive branch of this administration will be undersecretary in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

His appointment to, and his acceptance of, this number two job in DHEW has always been a riddle in the capital. He could undoubtedly have had a bigger and better job.

Mr. Rockefeller has justified his existence in the undersecretaryship, however. He has been the brains and big idea man of the department.

The health-reinsurance idea was his baby. Though Congress refused to adopt it last year, and may do so again this year, it at least has the merit of original thinking and a fresh approach to the old and still unsolved problem of how to have universal health protection without socialized medicine.

Mr. Rockefeller has also left the mark on the new policies for expanded social security and education. His inspiration is to be found in the broad program of welfare outlined in the President's State of the Union Message.

Mr. Rockefeller is also the U. S. strategy in psychological warfare.

Mr. Jackson quit this job last March. It has been empty ever since. There has been a prolonged search for someone to take his place. No one could be found with the right amount of creative imagination.

Then someone, in what must have been a burst of pure genius, woke up to the fact that the man they were looking for was already working quietly in Washington in the person of the modest millionaire, 60-year-old Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller.

FOR THE PAST YEAR AND A HALF he has been undersecretary in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. His appointment to, and his acceptance of, this number two job in DHEW has always been a riddle in the capital. He could undoubtedly have had a bigger and better job.

Such troubles as the administration has encountered have stemmed from apparently not knowing for sure what the right things were now to go about them. It has corrected many old and obvious faults of government—like revising the tax code and reducing government expenses. But dramatic new policies that capture imagination and support have not been too numerous.

THE ONE MOST constructive idea so far developed has been President Eisenhower's plan for an international sharing of atomic energy knowhow and materials for peaceful purposes.

It is generally conceded that C. D. Jackson played an important role in developing this idea. His job at the time was special assistant to the President, but his principal assignment was to oversee and shape the new policies for expanded social security and education. His inspiration is to be found in the broad program of welfare outlined in the President's State of the Union Message.

Union Is Criticized for Insisting That All Members Must Vote in Elections

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 4.—The evil effects of compulsory unionization and its impairment of civil liberties in America were never more vividly illustrated than in the latest action of a labor union in Pennsylvania which says no man can have a job hereafter unless he registers for voting.

Whether a citizen wishes to vote or to refrain from voting has hitherto been a prerogative that nobody could interfere with. But evidently a labor union now can impose a penalty and put into effect what amounts to compulsory voting.

Although The Associated Press conveyed this news about what was happening at Johnstown, Pa., throughout the length and breadth of the land earlier this week, one hasn't heard a peep out of the so-called "Liberals" who are usually quick to protest whenever anyone mixed up in some way with communism is asked an impertinent question by a congressional committee.

May be the reason is that modern "Liberals" believe in compulsion, especially where the process of invisible government by labor unions is involved. Recently, for example, they have raised a cry against the "right to work" laws of several states, with a demand for their repeal. It is unfortunate that Pennsylvania doesn't have a "right to work" law. For evidently in the Quaker state labor-union arrogance has reached the point where it now feels it can even impose laws governing the rights of the citizens at the public polls and take away the right to work.

It so happens that the AFL-CIO and General Laborers' Union in Johnstown, Pa., is headed up by Pete Livolsi, who announced the action which will affect 2,900 members in an 11-county area of southwestern Pennsylvania. He says that he is not interested in party affiliation but he wants to get the men registered. Now, Mr. Livolsi, by reason of the dual personality set-up in the labor world, is also head of a political action committee which embraces many unions in the area. As such, he was active in the recent political campaigns.

What it all adds up to is a form of coercion which the Taft-Hartley Act and many state laws, like the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act, were designed to eliminate. No body ever thought a "union shop" rule could be used to cover anything but membership in a union.

If the state of Pennsylvania or the federal government wants to pass a law requiring all citizens to register for voting, that is understandable. But no private organization like a labor union ought to have the economic power to deny a job opportunity to anybody. Hiring ought always to be a management function. For management takes the risks and deserves the right to choose its employees.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The "preliminary report" of the House Committee on Un-American Activities of its make-believe investigation of "neo-Fascist and hate groups" may be laughed away as a cheap effort to prop up the anti-McCarthy, indeed the not-altogether-American, faction of the Republican Party. Harold Velde, the chairman during the brief tenure of the lukewarm Republican Congress under Eisenhower, had serious politico-personal difficulties during that term. Like all other chairmen and obstreperous activists, such as Martin Dies, John Rankin, Parnell Thomas and Robert Stripling, he took severe harassment. Therefore, the temptation was obvious to raise a little hell against those forces which the report calls "neo-Fascist and hate groups." Those that do exist had done nothing which even an eager committee could pounce upon. But Velde had nothing to lose by raising a gruff voice to a petty and friendless minority and he stood to gain some kudos with the elements of diluted devotion who object to communism but think the menaces of Joe McCarthy is worse.

The "report" is trash but it will serve the useful though unintended purpose of pointing to the fact that this congressional committee did not know what it was talking about. According to Census Bureau job classifications standards, women are now in all the 446 occupations that the census reports.

How extensive is the Bodleian Library of Oxford University?

The library contains about 150,000 books. The English copyright law requires that one copy of every book published in England be given to the library.

To say that "Fascism seeks to destroy our government" is to presuppose that there is a criminal Fascist movement in the United States. Although the committee had a mission to prove it if such was the case, it brought no proof. However, the fact remains that F. D. Roosevelt's NRA, administered by the late Hugh

Dental Health Week Will Be Observed Locally

The seventh National Children's Dental Health Week will be celebrated February 7 through 13 to give national recognition to this often overlooked aspect of preventive medicine.

Joining in the nation-wide efforts to propagate pertinent informative data to parents so that dental health of their children might be preserved is the Ulster-Greene Dental Study Club, comprised of ethically-practicing dentists in the two counties.

DR. GEORGE BUSHNELL of Kingston is the group's president. This year's Children's Dental Health Week program locally has been compiled and will be presented by the group's newest members, Drs. Stephen T. McGrath, Walter Meyer and Jeremiah Sachs, all of Kingston.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang has proclaimed next week National Children's Dental Health Week in Kingston.

To assist in providing the greatest amount of coverage possible for information on dental health, The Kingston Daily Freeman will present a series of articles commencing Monday and continuing throughout the week.

THE MATERIAL — involved was prepared by the Ulster-Greene Dental Study Club and will cover the most important aspects of children's dental health, namely (1) statistics of tooth morbidity, (2) diet and dental health with emphasis on "sweets," (3) toothbrushing techniques and dentifrices, (4) fluoridation of water supplies, with special reference to the Kingston - Newburgh experimental project, (5) primary and permanent teeth, and (6) the child's first visit to the dentist.

In addition to newspaper distribution, additional information will be presented through the facilities of WKNY and WKNY-TV, through the cooperation of Robert Peebles, manager.

Rosendale Drive Success for Bed

Rosendale, Feb. 3—The chairman of the Town of Rosendale Loan Closet recently announced that the drive to raise funds for the purchase of a complete new hospital bed has met with wonderful response from the townspeople. It was also stated that there was "a genuine feeling of the great need in our small community for this worthy project," a project which has been a comfort to numerous people during its short existence.

The chairman also said that "it is gratifying to know that these items have served many people in Bloomington, Tillson, Creek Locks, Lawrenceville as well as in the Rosendale area. Although the demand usually exceeds our supply, we are happy to say that most everyone has been taken care of within a very short time."

The current drive ends with a food sale on February 12. "With such wonderful cooperation from members of the Woman's Club sponsoring the project and the townspeople," the chairman added, "we can't help but reach our goal."

Food Sale Feb. 12

Rosendale, Feb. 3—A food sale, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Rosendale, will take place at the Town Shop, starting at 11 a. m. on February 12. It is hoped that the club will be able to purchase an additional hospital bed in the near future.

Miss Esther Schisa, public health supervisor from Kingston spoke Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Town of Lloyd nurse committee meeting in the health center. She urged the committee, in the interest of future recruitment, to sponsor a nurses club in the Central school in cooperation with John C. Miller, the guidance director. Nurses are sorely needed throughout the county. She also urged the committee to start a scholarship fund for nursing, thus helping in some small way to assist girls to enter the nursing field. There is an urgent need for side boards for the hospital beds, now being loaned. The Council of Church Women will make layettes for needy babies. There was a good attendance and refreshments were served by Mrs. John J. Gaffney and Mrs. John Gargiulo.

A sewing day, February 11 at 10:30 a. m. in the Presbyterian Church hall for the making of layettes for the nurse committee is one of the activities this month scheduled by the Highland Council of Church Women. Mrs. Paul Frampton is chairman of the committee and is assisted by Mrs. Oscar Elliott from the Methodist Church; Mrs. Mildred Percy, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church and Mrs. W. J. Upright of the Presbyterian Church. Those attending are asked to bring their sewing kit and a box lunch. Coffee is furnished by the council. On February 18 a bake sale, for the benefit of the council will be held. The council money is largely used for the support of the Protestant released time religious education program. Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb is the chairman for the sale assisted by Mrs. Frank Kedenburgh and Mrs. Stewart MacColl.

make money by playing golf or going to Florida.

Much of what some businessmen call "unfair competition" may be "lazy competition." Another revolution may be needed to maintain a healthy free-enterprise system. It is this kind of competition that gave us the highest standard of living in the world. Furthermore, unless department stores, merchandising chains, and independents learn to do business cheaper and sell profitably at lower prices, "fair trade" may be doomed. Perhaps Self-Service will save the day.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 3—One of the most significant lessons business learned in 1954 is that you can't kill competition in a free economy, not even with Fair Trade Acts or Price Fixing! For you, this may mean better quality for less cost in 1955.

THE AUTOMOBILE DEALERS were not the only ones losing money. Appliance manufacturers, pen and hat makers, carpet weavers, and many others were in trouble. One prominent discount chain began to sell a "fair-traded" $89.95 vacuum cleaner for $49.95, and still made a good profit. Cries went up from manufacturers who vowed they would buy back every item of their manufacture they found in discount houses! Others wanted Government interference to enforce "fair trade" and price fixing to rescue their profits.

Suddenly in 1953 the seller's market became a buyer's market. The consumer was back in the driver's seat because much of the pent-up demand had been satisfied. Dealers who never learned how to make a dollar the hard way wound up in trouble. Some day the stock market will suffer the same experience!

AS TIME WENT ON, new cars began to appear on Used-Car Lots at reduced prices. Some manufacturers, after reopening new showrooms, discounts of $800-$1,000 on new cars. This greatly encouraged the "discount Houses." About the same time, the National Automobile Dealers Association announced that it would "leave no stone unturned" to eliminate bootlegging and all other practices it considered unfair; but did it turn any stones?

A group of Detroit bankers, studying the industry's plight, found that not one of them had been approached by car or electric appliance salesmen since World War 2. Word, however, got around that consumers had the money to buy and were only

RAINBOW*

Opens A New Era in Improved TV Reception

New Power! New Design! New Picture Brilliance!

Here is the most powerful TV antenna yet developed by modern science for improved fringe-area reception. An entirely new concept in antenna design . . . the Champion RAINBOW features 3 new, basic engineering discoveries including the revolutionary "triple-power" design! Developed at the world-famous Antenna Development Laboratories of Channel Master Corporation, the Champion RAINBOW outperforms every other all-channel antenna ever made!

Super-Sensitivity Cuts Down Picture Disturbances!

Regardless of where you live — or what make set you may use — the Champion RAINBOW'S super-sensitivity improves your picture quality! Cuts down — even eliminates — "snow" and "ghosts."

100% Aluminum—Can Never Rust or Corrode!

The all-aluminum Champion RAINBOW antenna is extremely durable, rugged and lightweight. It provides dependable service in all kinds of weather.

Best for Black and White TV; and Ready for COLOR Too!

The Champion RAINBOW antenna not only provides the most brilliant TV pictures possible today in black and white . . . but, when you get a color set, this same antenna will bring you television in full color — at no extra expense.

We recommend the Champion RAINBOW as the TV antenna best suited for this area.

The RAINBOW antenna for suburban and "near fringe" areas. The Super RAINBOW for "fringe" and "super fringe" areas. Both models can be stacked for extra power.

Bushman Died For Lack of Right Gorilla Edibles

Chicago, Feb. 4 (AP)—It seems that Bushman, Chicago's fierce-visaged, world-famous 550-pound gorilla, died because he didn't get the right kind of gorilla food.

This was the opinion expressed today by a medical team which did a detailed autopsy on Bushman immediately after his sudden death in 1951 at the age of 22.

They found that the giant male gorilla, although he looked as sturdy as a rock, was just a weakling behind his muscular facade.

The immediate cause of death of the 6 foot 2 inch gorilla was acute congestive heart failure. However, he also suffered from arthritic-like symptoms, degeneration of the spinal cord, liver and spleen, atrophy of the leg muscles, a chronic ulcer on his left heel, stomach hemorrhages, hardening of the brain arteries and swelling of the kidneys.

Bushman was regarded as the world's most prized zoo animal. He had been the single biggest attraction at any Chicago zoo for more than 20 years. After a taxidermist prepared him he was on exhibit at Lincoln Park Zoo and now is on display at the Chicago Natural History Museum.

What vital food source Bushman needed, the researchers couldn't say. A non-meat eater, he put away 22 pounds of fresh fruit, vegetables and whole wheat raisin bread each day. He also had three quarts of fresh milk daily and multiple vitamins were added to his diet. He was a little overweight, by wild gorilla standards.

But the researchers said the widespread degeneration suggests that the gorilla may have some unique species nutritional requirements.

Talk at B and P Club

By Mayor F. H. Stang

Mayor Frederick H. Stang was guest speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Club of the YWCA Wednesday. Mayor Stang chose an ever popular and timely subject, namely, Abraham Lincoln; his youth, political career and his years in the White House. Following Mayor Stang's interesting talk, Miss Ruth Buckwalter, representative from the YWCA National Board, discussed various aspects of the YWCA and the coming National Convention in New York city.

The B and P Club have a special holiday party planned for Wednesday Feb. 9 in celebration of Valentine's Day and Lincoln's and Washington's Birthdays.

Should Include Animal Protein

Nutritionists recommend that some animal protein be included in each meal. The following foods give about the same amount of animal protein: $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cottage cheese; 3 ounces cheddar cheese; $\frac{2}{3}$ cups milk; 3 ounces of cooked lean meat, poultry or fish; 3 medium-sized eggs.

Marty Kantrowitz Off KHS Squad

Kingston High will be without the services of Marty Kantrowitz when it invades the snow-bound wilds of Port Jervis to-night.

And this could be a difficult assignment for the Maroons. Dick Beams and company have been hot in recent games and figure they have a good chance to beat Kingston—a rare achievement in PJ basketball history.

KANTROWITZ is ineligible for the remainder of the 1954-55 season because of scholastic difficulties. Since he is a senior, he has played his last game for Kingston High.

The big youngster made some solid contributions to KHS wins this season and had a flair for hot one-period streaks. The Maroons will miss his shooting ability.

Elsewhere in the DUSO, the undefeated Goldbacks have a bye. Fallsburg Central travels to Poughkeepsie; Ellenville is at Liberty and Middletown travels to Monticello.

THE KEY GAME in the Ulster County Athletic League is the Saugesters at Marlboro Central pairing.

The defending champions, with Carlton Conn, George Brooks and Joe Sarra in form could spell trouble for the league leaders.

Kerhonkson, a half game behind the leaders entertains New Paltz High and Highland travels to Wallkill.

Beliveau Hits Clutch Goal

(By The Associated Press)

Another "clutch" goal by sophomore-sensation Jean Beliveau boosted the Montreal Canadiens' National Hockey League lead to two points over the Detroit Red Wings.

Beliveau's timely tally midway in the final period gave Montreal a 3-2 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs, while the wings tied the Boston Bruins 1-1 last night.

Beliveau, who received an estimated $20,000 to sign with Montreal after a phenomenal amateur hockey career, is starting to pay dividends. The 23-year-old center tops the league in individual scoring with 56 points. And his tie-breaking goal last night was his 29th of the season—giving him the lead in this department.

Harness Racing Take Is Record $24,247,708

New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—New York state collected a record $24,247,708 from harness racing in 1954—31.3 per cent over 1953.

The state received a larger share of the pari-mutuel tax last year.

Wagering dropped 1 per cent and attendance at the eight licensed tracks dropped 1.3 per cent from 1953.

The total pari-mutuel turnover in 1954 was $269,510,458 and attendance was 5,026,170.

THESE FIGURES were disclosed yesterday in the annual report of Harness Racing Commissioner George P. Monaghan to Secy. of State Carmine G. DeSapio.

These facts and figures were reported:

The highest pari-mutuel turnover was $109,156,431 at Roosevelt Raceway, which had an attendance of 1,945,079. Second largest was $105,114,749 at Yonkers Raceway, which had an attendance of 1,888,712. Roosevelt was allotted 106 racing days and Yonkers 86. A total of 539 racing days were granted to the eight associations, but 18 were cancelled because of weather or strikes.

Wagering and attendance at other tracks were:

BATAVIA DOWNS—$17,941,462 and 407,544; Buffalo Raceway—$14,054,892 and 341,242; Saratoga Raceway—$11,941,522 and 337,415; Vernon Downs—$10,620,904 and 281,835; Good Time Park, Goshen—$512,510 and 15,533; Historic Park, Goshen—$167,982 and 8,790.

All the racing was at night except at Goshen, where each summer there is a week of afternoon Grand Circuit trotting at Good Time Park and Historic Park.

Purse distribution at the tracks totaled $7,650,429, including $2,489,900 at Roosevelt, $2,098,700 at Yonkers, $737,272 at Saratoga, $714,837 at Vernon, $697,950 at Batavia, $607,350 at Buffalo, $204,497 at Good Time, $100,652 at historic.

League Denies 'Pressure' Ousted Ump Jim Duffy

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 4 (AP)—Jim Duffy was out of the baseball umpiring profession today amid denials by American League President Will Harridge and two member clubs of the ex-arbitrator's charges of "pressure."

Duffy announced he was quitting yesterday, saying that he had been sent to the International League during the 1954 season after three years in the AL because of "pressure" from the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox.

HE ADDED THAT if he couldn't be in the major leagues he had to quit because he couldn't make enough in the minor leagues.

General Managers Frank Lane of Chicago and Joe Cronin of Boston denied pressure of any kind from their respective organizations.

Harridge said the league felt Duffy "did not measure up" to league

How Much Does Ked Still Have

New York, Feb. 4 (AP) — Kid Gavilan, the known quantity in so many fights, plays the role of Mr. X tonight at Madison Square Garden in his bout with slugger Ernie Durando.

Nobody knows how much the Cuban has left, whether the comment jaw that absorbed the toughest punches in 117 fights has begun to crumble. It remains to be seen if the mambo routine and the three-a-day chores of a dancing M.C. have taken their toll from his legs.

Gavilan and Durando, a crude puncher from Bayonne, N. J., don't belong in the same ring if—and it's a big if—Gavilan is 50 per cent of the Gavilan of old. The former welterweight champion always had too much speed, boxing skill and ring savvy for Durando whose style could be summed up in one word—punch.

THE ODDS FAVORING Gavilan at 1 to 3 indicate that expert opinion still thinks they don't belong in the same ring. Still, Gavilan's unimpressive (to say the least) fights against Bobo Olson and Johnny Saxon, plus a three-month layoff, hardly justify unlimited faith in his current ability. Incidentally, this will be the Ked's first fight for his new manager, banker Yamil Chade.

It could be an interesting event for the paying fans and those who twist their dials (radio-TV-NBC) to the fight at 10 p.m. (EST). Ike Williams in 1948 and Carmen Basilio in 1953 (Sept. 18) are the only men who ever knocked Gavilan off his feet. He got up each time, so he never has been stopped in a career dating back to 1943.

Durando has knocked out 28 opponents while compiling a 39-18-4 record for 61 bouts since 1946.

Littler Leads Phoenix Open

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 4 (AP) — Youthful Gene Littler reached the 18th green yesterday needing an eight-foot putt for a birdie to finish with a 66 and take the lead in the $15,000 Phoenix Open from three other professionals.

He sank it to finish the first round four under par and a stroke ahead of Walter Burkemo, former PGA champion from Franklin, Mich., Johnny Palmer, veteran from Charlotte, N.C., and Jack Fleck the head pro for municipal courses at Davenport, Iowa.

At 68 was Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., and 10 were bunched at 69. Included was Cary Middlecoff, Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., who lost in a playoff to Ed Furgol here last year. Furgol, the U.S. Open champion had a 70 for his first round.

Budget in the Dixon-Yates negotiations."

They declared that the bureau "overstepped its legitimate authority" in intervening to get AEC to go ahead with the contract.

The Republicans said that the solution offered by TVA adherents is for that agency to build a 100 million dollar steam plant at Fulton, Tenn., to supply about the same area as would be served by the 107 million dollar Dixon-Yates project.

This would require "expenditure of capital funds of more than 100 million by the federal government, which would bring the national debt that much closer to its ceiling," the majority report said.

It pointed out that TVA had been denied funds for the Fulton plant seven times by the Congress or executive agencies. It said President Eisenhower wanted a solution which would involve "the investment of private funds without federal capital investment," and that the Dixon-Yates contract carried this out.

Held for Military

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of Union Free School District #4, Hurley, Ulster County, New York, until 4 p. m., March 8, 1955, at the Hurley School, Hurley, New York, which will be publicly opened and read for furnishing all labor and materials for the Alterations in Addition to Hurley School, Union Free School District #4, Hurley, New York.

Plans and specifications for:

Contract #1: Masonry, Carpentry, Painting, Roofing, Sheet Metal

Contract #2: Electric, Wiring

Contract #3: Plumbing

Contract #4: Heating & Ventilating

be seen at the office of Harry Halverson, Architect, 280 West Street, Kingston, New York and copies of same may be secured by application to the Architect by a deposit of TWENTY FIVE DOLLARS ($25.00) for each set of plans and specifications.

OTHER passengers in the Ogborn car included Francis De Long, Margarettville and Sheran Kelly of Fleischmanns.

According to his statement to the local authorities, Hooston in the other vehicle was driving alone, traveling north on Washington avenue when the 1948 sedan entered Finger street extension and collided with his vehicle.

THE POLICE report showed that there were skid marks of approximately 20 feet on the snow covered pavement where the Hooston car attempted to stop. The report also said that Hooston claimed injury to his left leg, but that none of the persons involved required immediate medical attention.

Ogborn's passengers verified that he stopped for the full stop sign at the intersection and then proceeded east on Finger street where the vehicles collided.

The Ogborn car was unable to move and was towed to Jim's Service Station on Malden avenue, within forty-five (45) days after the actual date of opening thereof.

Attention of bidders is particularly called to the requirements as to the qualifications of employees to be observed and minimum wages to be paid under the contract.

The Board of Education, Union Free School District #4, Hurley, Ulster County, will receive bids on any or all proposals which may be deemed not to be to the best interest of the said School District.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Our foreign beggar department has become so huge that the new Chairman of the Council on Foreign Economic Policy has counted up and found that we now have 168 Government bureaus helping to dish out foreign economic "aid."

Let's count them, neighbor! One hundred and sixty-eight—all building up vampire empires to suck the tax blood of the American people! And still we are told that we "can't balance the budget" this year. Or next year?

Lop off 100 of them and you still have 68 left. Lop off 167 of 'em, and you have one, which should be enough.

We have been supporting Greece for 10 years, and wake up to the music of anti-American riot in Athens. And now comes "Harold, the Bountiful Stassen," asking for bigger give-aways to Asiatics.

These people are poor, and decent minded folks would like to see them prosper. And they can.

Let them establish governments that will welcome and protect American investments in their countries—the way Venezuela has done, or Saudi Arabia. Then American capital would pour into them by the billions, and you and I would have a break at long last.

But will our Bureaucrats agree to that? Oh, no! Never! That would be "reactionary"! If they did, they'd have to stop sucking the Federal tit and hunt up a job, the way you and I, and our granddads have done ever since Plymouth Rock.

News of Our Own Service Folks

so great that some of his own ministers privately voiced hopelessness.

THE VOTE WILL BE on Mendes-France's whole North African policy, including Tunisian home rule, an increased share in government for Algeria's Moslem majority and certain "reforms" for Morocco.

But the critical issue was home rule for the Tunisian nationalists, a specter which alarms the important French landowners and businessmen living in the protectorate.

The probability of France's 20th postwar government crisis raised the question of what might happen to the Paris Accords to rearm West Germany as a member of the North Atlantic Alliance.

THESE TREATIES, approved by the Assembly, are still under consideration in the Senate. However, Assembly observers believed there were other possible premiers who could successfully pilot the pacts through the remaining parliamentary stages.

The deputies were to resume debate tonight (3 p. m., EST) to give explanations of their votes on the question of confidence. This preliminary probably will be cleared away by midnight, (6 p. m., EST) and the balloting is expected soon after. Under France's constitution 24 hours must elapse

Thursday Cold Was Record

THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, KINGSTON, N. Y., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 4, 1955.

February today continued acting like it belonged to deep winter after setting a 20-year record with yesterday's eight below zero in the city, and hitting thermometers out in the country with random shots, ranging from 10 to 22 below.

Kingston pays a junior stenographer $2,400 to $2,700, Casey explained, whereas the state pays $3,020 to $3,880 with an extra step providing still another increment.

Kingston pays a junior stenographer $2,400 to $2,700, Casey explained, whereas the state pays $2,450 to $3,490. The city of Newburgh provides a maximum of $4,000 for the position.

Casey also called attention to the increase granted city of Kingston employees for the ensuing year.

Leon Studt, president of the Ulster County Civil Service Employees Association, was also present.

The coldest February 3, before yesterday, was six degrees below zero in 1936, by the city engineer's records of 20 years.

WEDNESDAY INDICATED

what was ahead for Thursday when the mercury hit three degrees below zero at 11:45 p. m. Even at noon, the severe weather was forecast with a high of only 12 degrees. The month began with a low of 10 degrees above zero Tuesday.

Forecasts today indicate milder temperatures for tomorrow.

'Big Freeze' Lessens

In Northeast Area

New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—The "big freeze" in the northeast section of the nation let up a bit today but it was still heavy overcoat weather.

The temperature in New York city, which had record zero weather yesterday, stayed at 9 degrees above through the early morning hours. The record for this date is 1 below zero, set in 1918.

Just past midnight at Newark, N. J., the thermometer registered 8 above a record for Feb. 4. The previous low mark for the date was 9 above in 1934. But since midnight the mercury notched upward 2 points to 10 above.

BALZ REMARKED that the couple was gone off the school and that he rather missed it. "My boys all rang the bell when they were there," he said.

Superintendent of Education Arthur J. Laidlaw called the board's attention to a chart indicating rate of live births in the city, explaining that they were steadily increasing. "It is an honor for the public schools."

During 1945 there were only 383 live births in the city, this number soaring to 550 in 1946 and continuing its rise in 1947 when there were 678. In the following year they fell to 534, then began to rise again. During 1954 there were 602 live births.

Laidlaw called attention to the present "bulge" in kindergarten, first and second grades, explaining that this bulge would "continue right on through" the public school system. There are now 499 children in city kindergartens, 495 in the first grade and 482 in the second grade.

The board approved a request by Hubert Hoderath, director of vocational and adult education to attend an adult education conference in Syracuse April 25 and 26.

It appointed Carolyn M. Warren as a substitute teacher in the School 2 kindergarten at a salary of $320 a month effective January 31, 1955.

A CONTRACT for plastic dishes and stainless steel forks for School 6 cafeteria was awarded to the Kingston China and Bar Supply for $334.40.

Bids on fluorescent lighting fixtures for School 8 were referred to the building committee for study and action. Kalish reported that from 225 to 240 such fixtures would be required for classroom lighting in School 8.

The board approved payment of payroll and vouchers for the month of January amounting to $162,111.62, and payment of the Veterans Institutional on the Farm Training Program payroll and vouchers amounting to $314.59 for the same month. The resolution was introduced by Robert O'Reilly, chairman of the finance committee. O'Reilly also presented the treasurer's report as of December 31, 1954.
